TROOP MEETING

In continuation of learning about Financial Literacy for Financial Literacy Month, the girls worked on money principles and specifically the value of money. Knowing the difference between wants and needs is a major step in becoming financially disciplined. Our troop will work on these financial principles continually throughout their girl scout years while earning dedicated Financial Literacy badges designed to simulate real-life situations, ensuring girls are poised to budget, save, and spend like a BOSS! The girls discussed how they want to use their cookie sale money. The results are in: Camping, Horseback Riding, Skating Party. We are currently planning a shopping trip to teach girls how to spend. They will be using funds from their cookie money earnings to fund this shopping trip. The girls will be buying items for our philanthropy work, specifically making the world a better place.

IMPORTANT

In efforts to streamline events and news, we are considering moving away from Facebook and only having our Troop's webpage. To many communication avenues can lead to miscommunication and frustration. The web page will be self-driven and the parent will need to check the webpage weekly to stay informed. We are working on the page to enhance the features to pay dues and RSVP for events.
